THE LAST RAFT DOWN LICKING

The last raft to run down Licking was in 1942. The last two rafts belonged to Ollie Lykins. Smith Griffiths and Kelly Whitt rafted the logs. (Mr. Lykins had a broken leg.) The two rafts had stersmen and a bowman. Kelly Whitt, Smith Griffiths, Manford France and Ed Littler.

They left from Rock House one morning and tied up that night below West Liberty at the Horse-shoe Bend, and stayed all night with Roy Tyler. The second day they reached the mouth of North Fork and stayed at John W. Stalens. The third day they reached Salk Lick, and the fourth day they arrived at Sherban and the next day at noon reached Carlisle where the logs had been sold to J. W. Clark who brought the men back to West Liberty. The logs were oak and poplar and each raft had 12,000 feet which sold for $20 a thousand. The men received $1.50 per day for running the river.

VISITORS FIND GRAVES OF ANCESTORS IN MORGAN

Mrs. Frank Berner of Atlanta and Mrs. Ray Grice of Topeka visited the scenes of their forebears in Morgan county Tuesday and Wednesday, and while here they searched for and found the graves of their great grandmother and great-great grandmother in the John Henry Cemetery on the Rhett Brown farm near the mouth of Elkfork.

Mrs. Brenner and Mrs. Grice are cousins of Mrs. Bertha Leslie of Lexington and of Custer Jones of West Liberty. Mrs. Leslie accompanied them here and they were guests of Mr. Jones at the Cole Hotel.

Their great-great grandmother was Deborah Simmons Perkins who was born in Mt. Airy, N. C. in 1796 and was a double first cousin of Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederacy. They (Continued on page four)

BLUE SOX DEFEAT BEATTYVILLE 3-2

Clarence Black's West Liberty Blue Sox continued their winning ways last Sunday by defeating Beattyville 3-2 at the Lee county capital, while Lexington defeated Irvine 4-3 at Lexington.

The West Liberty nine, which has defeated Lexington three times this season, holds leadership in the Eastern division of the Bluegrass League with a record of 5 wins and 2 losses. Lexington has a 4-3 record.

Big Steve Hamilton struck out 11 men while doing out only 4 safeties against Beattyville Dick Delozier, former Lexington hurler, was pounced for 8 hits by the Morgan county lads in the Beattyville contest.

With West Liberty behind 2-1 in the seventh, Henry Lowell Allen and Lynn Nickell, singled and both scored when Beattyville's pitcher made a wild pitch to third after Richie Stacy bunted.

West Liberty will be host to Irvine here Sunday afternoon. Irvine has defeated the Sox twice this season, and Clarence Black's boys hope to break the spell this Sunday.

Stockyard Tests of Cattle Opened In State July 1st

Blood-testing of all cattle sold through Kentucky stockyards opens Monday July 1.

Ben J. Butler, state commissioner of agriculture, reminded farmers and stockyard operators of the date this week; the new regulations, aimed at controlling brucellosis and other infectious diseases, go into effect on July 1.

Under the new rules, all cattle being sold through Kentucky stockyards or other sales places, must be blood tested for the infectious diseases.

All cattle going back to the farm from all sales must be blood-tested for brucellosis; this includes all bulls and females over six months of age, unless the cattle have been brucellosis-vaccinated and are under 30 months of age.

The seller pays a $1 fee for the testing, to be done at each Kentucky stockyard by accredited veterinarians and qualified technicians. The testing can be accomplished quickly and will not delay sales or deliveries.

Brucellosis-reactor cattle cannot be shipped interstate, Butler said, except to an approved slaughter house. Reactor cattle must be consigned to slaughter immediately. Some cattle may be returned to feed lots or grazing areas, if permits are procured and the cattle kept out of contact with other livestock.

The testing program does NOT include cattle previously tested within 30 days, or cattle from accredited brucellosis-free herds which have the proper health certificate.

In addition to brucellosis, the livestock must be inspected for other diseases, Butler noted, such as hog cholera, sheep scab, and mastitis.

GARDEN CLUB PICNIC

The Limestone Region of the Kentucky Federation of Garden Clubs will sponsor a picnic Tuesday, July 9 at 11 a.m. (C.D.T.) at Rogers Park on Route 32 between Flemingsburg and Morehead. The Flemingsburg Garden Club will host the event. Members of the West Liberty Garden Club are invited to attend, announces local president Mrs. H. D. Potter.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CLASS TO VISIT IN W. LIBERTY

The Hazard Men's class of the Christian church plans to visit West Liberty July 26 at 6 p.m. for a dinner meeting in the local church. More than 20 men are expected to attend.

Stacy Reunion Held At Natural Bridge

Sunday was a day long to be remembered by the family and friends of the late Jerry Stacy who met at Natural Bridge for a bountiful picnic dinner and reunion.

Those present were Mrs. Rhoda Stacy, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Haney and Pat from West Liberty; Douglas Haney of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Trimble of Mt. Sterling; Scott Trimble of Sturgis, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Stacy, Frances and Terry Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Ledford Stacy and Ronald Wayne and Gene Gray of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Oney, Dickie, Phil and Bobbie of Ashland; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Stacy and grandson Leo Stacy of Fairborn, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stacy, Harold Jr. and Lou Ann of Georgetown; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stacy, Mrs. Buddie Howard and two children of Salyersville, Mrs. Hilda Isaac and two children of Charlottesville; Mrs. W. W. Henson and daughter, Ypsilanti, Mich.; Mrs. Danne DeBenedetto and Patty and Dawn of Ann Arbor, Mich.; Mrs. Myrtle Davis, Charles Davis, Charles Davis, Jr. and Eddie of Shelbyville; Miss Mary Lillian Davis of Louisville; Drexel Davis of Frankfort; Martha and Mike McKnight of Cincinnati.

John Henderson, 48, native of Morgan county and his three-year-old son, Jerry Lee, were killed instantly in a motorcycle crash at Fairborn, Ohio last Sunday.

Bodies of the father and son were returned to Morgan county for funeral and interment. Funeral services were conducted at the Lick Fork Church near Pomptown Tuesday afternoon. Interment was in the Caskey Cemetery near Pomptown.

The elder Henderson was born and reared in Morgan, but had resided in Fairborn for some years. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Henderson of Lick Fork.

Reports received here said the father was riding his children on his motorcycle, one at a time, and that it crashed with an auto when Jerry Lee was riding with his father. Both died almost instantly.

Mr. Henderson is survived by the wife, Mrs. Virginia Caskey Henderson, and the following children: John, Robert, Glenn and Dale all of Fairborn; Mrs. Ina Jean Dehart and Mrs. Anna Frances Kemplin also of Fairborn.

George W. Perkins Dies At Cannel City

George W. Perkins, 88, died at his home at Cannel City June 29th. He was the son of John and Rhoda Perkins.

Surviving are the following children: Mrs. Verna Taulbee, Insko; Mrs. Amanda King, Cannel City; Jethro Perkins, Dayton; and Ventus Perkins, Dayton.

Funeral services were held July 1st at the Payton Church with Rev. Troy Shepherd of Ohio officiating. Burial was in the Perkins Cemetery at Payton under direction of Potter Funeral Home.

CHURCH AT CENTERVILLE

There will be regular church services at Centerville church Saturday night and Sunday. Rev. Lonnie Wright and Rev. Jessie Smith will be there Saturday and Sunday. Rev. Tony and Walter Easterling will be the visiting ministers. Rev. Clyde Perry of Dayton, Ohio will also be there to begin a revival. Everyone is invited to attend.

Classical Music Recordings Now Available Here

A limited number of classical music recordings have been made available to mountain schools and communities, according to the Council of the Southern Mountains in Berea, Kentucky. Through the combined efforts of Shackleton's Music Shop, the Louisville Berea Alumni Club, Martin Ambrose, and the Friends Club (all of Louisville), thirty albums of 78 rpm records have been turned over to the Council of the Southern Mountains for distribution in the Appalachian South. This will make it possible for many children to learn, know, and appreciate the classics who might otherwise have little opportunity to hear it at all.

Distribution has already begun. Six albums were given to Rev. Orus Rupe (Presbyterian Church Union), Ezel, and to the community recreation, church, school, and 4-H Club work.

The Frenchburg United Presbyterian Church, Frenchburg, Ky., received four albums to be used in hospital, church and community work, while the Berea College Music Department has been given six albums of records.

It is hoped that this program will continue and expand as more and more music lovers are converting their record collections from the old 78 rpm discs to modern long-playing albums.

HOMER HARRIS TO APPEAR SATURDAY

The Blue Sox Baseball Club of West Liberty will present Homer Harris, the seven-foot cowboy star of screen and television, and his trained horse Stardus, in a special performance at the West Liberty Saturday night of this week at 7:30 o'clock.

The benefit performance will be to raise funds for the baseball club.

Besides Homer Harris and Stardus, also appearing in public at the show will be the Brewster Brothers and their Band. Good clean entertainment is promised. Admission will be 35c and 75c.

Johnson Buys Cole Hotel In W. Liberty

Ray Johnson of Ashland last week purchased from Roland Stacy the Cole Hotel in West Liberty.

Johnson had operated the hotel for two years. He had foreclosed on a purchase option. The chance said this week he had no plans at this time to remodel the hotel but would continue to run the business as in the past.

Eliza Ann Carpenter Dies At Middletown

Mrs. Eliza Ann Carpenter, 78, died at Middletown July 4th on the way to a hospital.

Survivors are the following children: Mrs. Ray Craft, Middletown, O.; Grover, Buford and Ova Carpenter of Cincinnati, O.; and Mr. Beulah Lee of Peru, Indiana.

Funeral services will be held at the Ezel church Saturday with Rev. Glenn Lawson officiating. Burial will be in the Ezel cemetery under direction of Potter Funeral Home.

TO DEDICATE MASONIC HALL

Mt. Sterling F. & A. M. Lodge No. 23 will dedicate a new two-story brick lodge hall on U.S. 40 at a field Friday evening with Dist. Deputy Grand Master John W. Kenton of Clay City laying the cornerstone. John W. Hall, Grand Master of Grand Lodge will deliver the address.

The State highway crew under direction of Dennie Mullins has been working on highway 9 from West Liberty to the Elliott line, building shoulders, clearing ditch lines and clearing right of way.

RENEWAL LICENSES READY

Motor vehicle operators renewal licenses are now available at the office of Circuit Court Clerk Walter Franklin for drivers whose names commence with the letters from L through Z. Operators licenses must be renewed each two years.

PARITY SHOULD MEAN EQUALITY: BUT DOES IT?

(By Wm. C. Johnstone for Kentucky Bankers Assn.)

PARITY FIGURES. Parity is a measure of equality. In agriculture it is a measuring stick used to compare costs, prices and income of farmers with those of other groups of American citizens. It provides economists and lawmakers a means of comparing the well-being of agriculture with other segments of our population. It also might help young farm people decide whether they wish to chase their lot with agriculture or choose other means of earning a living.

I doubt if any true friend of agriculture believes that every man who wants to farm should be guaranteed a profit from that profession any more than would be guaranteed to lawyers, doctors, merchants or manufacturers. There will always be those in agriculture who, because of the lack of ability, capital, vision or energy, will be unable to earn a satisfactory living from the farm. Present day requirements for capital, knowledge, training and business ability for successfully operating a farm are higher now than ever before, and are more demanding than those of almost any other profession.

No true American should be satisfied to see agriculture remain in the state of disequilibrium which now exists between agriculture and other important segments of our economy. For instance, the USDA says that if the average farmer received a return of 4-3/4 per cent on his investment his labor income would be only about 70 cents per hour. In comparison most businessmen expect 10 to 15 per cent on this investment and the average factory worker earns $1.98 per hour. In 1956 the per capita income of all farm people was $889. In the same year the per capita income of non-farm workers was $2010. This is an unhealthy spot in an otherwise prosperous country.

ALFALFA TIME. August is one of the best times to sow alfalfa in Kentucky. But between now and then there is a lot of preparation to be done—soil testing, applying lime, phosphate and potash, if needed; working up a good seed bed; purchase and inoculation of the seed. Promising new varieties to try include Narragansett and DePuits. Be sure to sow some grass with the alfalfa. Bromes, Kentucky Blue and Orchard Grass make excellent combinations.

Veterans' Wives May Be Due Additional Benefits

Many widows of Kentucky veterans have failed to apply to the Veterans Administration for increased death compensation which may be due them. Director R. R. Thomas of the Kentucky Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Board has reported.

He said the servicemen's and veterans' survivor benefits act provides such benefits will be paid retroactively to Jan. 1 if application is made by July 1.

The applicant will be advised by the VA whether it is better to receive benefits under the new law or to continue to receive benefits under the old.

All widows of veterans who died in service or as a result of service-connected disability should file before July 1. The board will assist widows in applying for this benefit.

CHURCH AT LICKING RIVER

Everyone is invited to attend services at Licking River Sunday, July 7, and hear preaching by Rev. Charlie Frederick and singing by the Lacy Creek choir. A church bus will stop at the bus station in West Liberty to pick up anyone wanting transportation to church. Services start at 2 o'clock.

PHONE CO-OP ADDS FOURTH COUNTY TO ITS DIAL SYSTEM

Frenchburg Firm Purchased And Is To Be Expanded

The Mountain Rural Telephone Cooperative Corporation with headquarters in West Liberty purchased the Frenchburg Telephone Company and will add it to its three-county dial system, Woodrow W. Barber, manager of the co-op, announced this week.

Purchase price of the Frenchburg system was $30,000 and was financed by a loan from REA.

Being processed now is an additional loan of $270,000 from REA to convert the Frenchburg office into a dial system and to extend the telephone lines in Menifee county an additional 124 miles to accommodate the additional 225 phone users.

The present Frenchburg phone system has 218 users with switchboard office in Frenchburg. Mountain Rural Co-op plans to increase the users to 443 by improving the present system and expanding its coverage with 124 miles of new lines. Also to be built is a central dial-system office in Frenchburg to replace the present switchboard office.

Acquisition of the Frenchburg private company by the three-county co-operative dial phone system. The present co-op was activated in February of 1955 in Morgan, Elliott and Wolfe counties and now has approximately 1,200 users. Headquarters of the co-op are in West Liberty and sub-stations are maintained in Sandy Hook, Campton, Ezel and Hazel Green.

Addition of the Frenchburg system and expansion planned through the five years anticipate a total of 1,768 subscribers, Barber said.

Long distance calls from the Frenchburg dial center will be through the Winchester office of Southern Bell. Extended area coverage also will be provided between Frenchburg and the co-op's present exchange at Ezel.

Board of directors of the Mountain Rural Telephone Co-op took a purchase option on the Frenchburg private company last winter and made area coverage and area design surveys before exercising the option, Barber said this week.

Licking Valley RECC Slates Annual Meeting, Farm Show

The Annual Meeting and Electric Farm Show of the Licking Valley Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation will be held here on Monday, July 15, announces W. E. Gevedon, manager of the cooperative, which serves 6400 families in this area.

A new and unusual activity which has been added to the show this year for the first time is an "Auction Jamboree" where Co-Op members will have the chance to buy name-brand electric appliances at bargain prices. The appliances—an electric range, an electric water heater, an electric dryer and a freezer—will be sold at absolute auction through local dealers and with regular guarantees provided.

There will be the usual beauty contest, open to any unmarried girl between 16 and 22, who resides in a home served by Rural Electric Co-Op. The winner in this contest will receive a silver meat tray and an all expense paid trip to Louisville in September to compete in the state contest. Second place winner will receive a matched set of costume jewelry.

There will be a talent contest open to any person between the ages of 6 and 18, and residing in one of the Kentucky counties served by a rural electric co-op. A cash award will be given the winner and a chance to enter the state contest in Louisville in October.

Attendance prizes will be given out all through the program. Partial schedule for the day follows: 11:30 a.m., registration; 12:15 p.m., prize drawing; 1 p.m., beauty contest; 1:45 p.m., business meeting; 2:45 p.m., prize drawing and Auction Jamboree. (Times are Central Standard.)

Drawings continue throughout the day and evening at various times. The talent contest will be at 7:15 p.m., followed by the final Auction Jamboree.

There will be entertainment throughout the day at various times. Among the entertainers will be Lane and Lindell, adagio team, and Camille's dog show, Ralph Shannon and his Western Band will furnish music throughout the day. Duncan the Magician combines magic with good clean humor. Four other acts round out the entertainment part of the Annual Meeting and Electric Farm show program.

LOGVILLE—

RECEIVES BAD CUT IN FALL

LOGVILLE, July 2—(By Ruby Elam)—Mrs. Celina McGraw fell from her porch a few days ago and cut a bad place in her leg. She was taken to a doctor at West Liberty where about 20 stitches had to be taken to sew the wound. Her son Archie B. Nickell brought his daughter in to take care of her a few weeks. Archie B. returned Sunday taking his son Kenneth home. Lowell Dean and Phillip Kennard went home with them to visit a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Kennard of Wakefield, Ohio, came by Lexington Sunday and brought Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kennard home from Good Samaritan Hospital, where Mrs. Kennard had been a patient for two weeks. She is recovering normally from a gallstone operation.

Mrs. Anna Hopkins returned after a month's visit with her children Jimmy Gullett and Roger Kennard in Michigan and Claude Kennard in Middletown, O.

Mrs. Lon Williams visited her daughter, Mrs. Fred Howard and family of Buffalo, a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Elam and sons John David and George Robert attended a picnic for W.O.W. members at Dewey Lake State Park Sunday.

TEN YEAR OLD BOY ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Douglas Ray May, the ten year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph May of Lakeville, near Paintsville was fatally injured when the horse he was riding with another youngster, James Flynn, fell after becoming entangled in a wire fence. He was taken to the Paintsville Hospital, where he died Saturday. The Flynn boy was also injured and taken to the hospital, where he remains. It is not thought, however, that his injuries are serious.

HAPPY HOPES TO BE PRESIDENT

NEW YORK, June 29—Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky said today he wants to be considered for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960.

"It's possible that I will enter the early primaries in 1960," he said as he and his wife left aboard the liner United States for a two-month trip to Europe and the Middle East.

Chandler, 58, said he did not think Adlai Stevenson, the party's candidate in 1952 and 1956, should or would make a third attempt for the presidency.

"The average voter in the United States could not understand Mr. Stevenson," Chandler said. "He was never quite able to unbend and get his message over to the average voter."

Chandler said that "if I can modestly say so, my record entitles me to consideration."

He said he had served in public office almost continuously since 1929 and "always dealt frankly with the people."

"I think in view of my public record," he said, "I want to be considered for the nomination."

He would be receptive, he said, "if my health is good and the situation warrants it."

Chandler said he had been invited to visit Israel and France by the governments of those countries.

BAPTISM AT STACY FORK

A crowd assembled at the Stacy Fork Bridge just below Stacy Fork Sunday afternoon when four people were baptized. The services were conducted by Rev. James Deborde, Ruel Connor of Elsie, Magoffin county, and Wilford McGary of the Calvary Baptist Church at Cannel City who administered the rites of baptism to Juanita King, Rosa Bates, Hazel Bates and Roger Bates.

The crowd sang songs and the ministers gave a sermon on baptism. Then with the applicant they walked down into the water and the rites were performed. Real christianity and obedience to its ordinances were just as good here, as in the greatest of church buildings in a metropolis with all the wonders of architecture.

UK-Berea Project Receives Support

A $147,800 grant has been awarded by the Fund for the Advancement of Education to support a three-year experimental program to be conducted by the University of Kentucky and Berea College in the preparation of educational supervisors.

Berea, the official recipient of the grant, will serve as fiscal agent, and the actual program of preparation will be provided by the University's College of Education. Dr. Pat Wear, of Berea and UK, and Dr. James R. Ogletree, University education faculty, will coordinate the project.

17 Year Locust Predicts Wars, Other Events Of Future On 1957 Visit

Many people have talked about the locusts that have been with us for the last two months. The long shrill notes of the male could be heard in the hills and trees and the sound became almost deafening in many places.

The scientific name of the insect is "Locusta." It is a large, hopper-like insect with a stout body, wide blunt head and large transparent wings. It is often called locust.

The larvae live underground and require long periods of development. They are found in the Eastern part of the United States and have a life span of thirteen or seventeen years, most of this time underground in the larval condition.

After emerging from the ground it quickly changes to the adult in which it lives only a few weeks laying its eggs in slits it makes in twigs of trees. If you notice the woods at this time you will see hundreds and thousands of dead twigs on the trees caused by the slits made in the small limbs of the trees.

In the northern part it matures in seventeen years while in the South it matures in thirteen years. The sound is produced by special sounds, which is purely a vibration the abdomen. Some people say that the sound made is the word "Pharaoh" and that they sometimes have "W" on their wings which means war.

Many kinds of insects make sounds, which is purely a vibration of membranes and is the only sound that could be produced by such vibration. One can listen and imagine it to be Pharaoh or by imagination one can think it is another word of similar sound.

All the wings on all locusts are the same and have always been the same. They all have six legs and belong to a large family of insects.

Perennial wheat is a possibility within the next 10 years, says the USDA; researchers are now breeding commercial wheat to distantly related grass (Agropyron); some of the experiments have produced yields comparable to commercial wheat the first year and are also resistant to leaf and stem rust.

COMMUNITY RECREATION PROGRAM

The Courier salutes everyone who is having a part in the community's recreation program for the summer. We know that Merle Nickell, director of athletics at Morgan County high school, heads the program, and many, many others are assisting in this worthwhile project.

Not too many communities the size of West Liberty have full-time summer programs for boys and men. From a quick estimate, we would say that there are 200 boys and men playing in the Little League, church baseball league, softball league and on the Blue Sox baseball team. With the Blue Sox scheduling Saturday games in addition to their regular Sunday schedule, it means there is seldom a day that there is not action at the ball field.

And it is not altogether the active participants who gain from such a program. The onlookers too must be included in a count of those who are benefiting from this summer recreation.

Doubtless, the potential stars on the baseball diamond will be found playing in Little League ball today. And even if a ballplayer never develops big-time talent, the experience he obtains in open competitiveness, sportsmanship and camaraderie will be invaluable to his future regardless of his profession later in life. To the mature player, it is an outlet for good sport, exercise, and is a cementer of public relations.

"Man shall not live by bread alone," is a statement that could embrace such a program as West Liberty has instituted at the athletic field. A ball game might even be called escapism for both player and on-looker, offering relief from daily routine.

Anyway, The Courier is all for it. The program is well planned, well directed. The only advice we have to offer is in the paraphrased statement: It's not who wins or loses that counts, but how you play the game.

CITY FOLKS SUPPORT BENSON

The Eisenhower Administration continues to look to the larger cities for support for its farm policies—and there are indications it is getting that support.

The Wall Street Journal recently was given great grandmother was Pauline Perkins Gardner. Their graves are in the Henry cemetery atop a hill on the Rhett Brown farm. And gravestones with legible inscriptions still stand at their graves.

Mrs. Brenner and Mrs. Glrice and Mrs. Leslie came from Lafayette, Ind. where they had attended the recent international meeting of the Women's Christian Fellowship of the Christian ch. Fellowship of Christian churches. While here, Mrs. Leslie showed us a deed to a lot in West Liberty covering where the Cut Rate Market and several adjoining buildings now stand, made to A. J. Parker, her and Mr. Jones' grandfather. Parker served in the Confederate Army as sergeant in Capt. Myrthier's (1st) Company of the 5th Ky. Mounted Infantry.

SON OF FORMER SUPERINTENDENT RETURNS AFTER 50 YEARS

Perry Carpenter of California came back to Morgan county this week after an absence of 55 years. His father, William W. Carpenter, onetime county superintendent of schools of Morgan county, went to Oklahoma about 60 years ago when his son was a small boy.

THREE HOUSES LOOKED NATURAL, COOPER SAYS

J. Clay Cooper of Mt. Sterling, now 85, came back to West Liberty recently to look over the scenes of his childhood. But he found only three buildings that looked somewhat the same as when he moved away in 1885—the W. O. Pelfrey home on Main street, the Floyd Arnett home on Prestonsburg street and the two-access to some of Secretary Benson's mail and reported that Benson "is winning important allies in his campaign to put across lower farm price supports and looser planting controls. City folk are rallying behind him."

Most of Benson's mail has come from cities and towns, the New York business newspaper reported, with few farmers writing in to the Secretary's position.

A few days after the article on Benson's mail, The Wall Street Journal ran a feature article on how the Federal Government helps farmers build farm ponds. The article is one in a series which the business newspaper is carrying under the general title of "Expansive Uncle."

The story gave the impression that the farm ponds are built mainly to help farmers fish, skate and swim—and only incidentally to improve farming and conserve soil and water resources.

The articles are being run because "while debate over the proposed $71,800,000,000 federal budget is focusing attention mostly on the rising cost of government, it also points up the vast range of activities in which the Government is engaged nowadays."

THE CIVILIZED JUNGLE

By Norman Allen, Editor of Floyd County Times

Politics is a jungle.

It is a jungle wherein the shadows are predominant, where the dapplings of sunlight are few.

There the law of fang and claw still rules. It is a jungle wherein the lion's roar and the chirp of the timid things build up to bedlam, until the hearer does not know where danger lies or wither to go for safety.

Stealth is there in that jungle, and cunning. Back in the shadowy places forms move, each stalking his prey or moving to defend himself or scurrying for safety.

This is the primeval, and the law is the primordial Survival of the Fittest. The rule of life here is, move quickly, strike quickly before you are stricken, forget friendships, bury animosities if need be—but survive. And count the cost later.

This is the jungle where the outside world is little considered. This is the battle for survival, and there is no time to think of others. You crouch, you strike—or you run. Instinct dictates much; reason, some; selfishness, never.

The owl and the rattle occupy the same den, even as in this jungle of politics there are strange bedfellows.

Yes, politics is a jungle, and any who ventures therein does so at great risk. He may lose his way, his sense of direction, his perspective, his faith in the guide.

Man can emerge from the jungle fastness, and the jungle can be tamed. But new tools for its clearing must be found. Perhaps new hands.

THE FARMER HURT AGAIN

The federal government announced this week that cost of living had increased a third of a percent during May—the ninth consecutive record high. Consumer prices are 3½ percent above a year ago. But farm prices are still relatively low—or lower, and nothing is being done to improve them.

From there they moved to Texas, 13 years later to California where his son Perry Carpenter now lives. Perry is visiting Tilden Carpenter, a cousin in West Liberty, and other relatives in Morgan county. His mother was Rose Jane McKinney.

During his absence greater changes have taken place in Morgan county than in all previous time, he says. His father, W. W. Carpenter, served as county superintendent of schools in Morgan county about 65 years ago. While Superintendent he also taught school at Carpenter school which Tilden Carpenter of West Liberty attended at the same time. He received $350 per year as superintendent of schools and had to ride a horse 14 miles to West Liberty Saturday mornings to be in the office and take care of the business.

Mr. Cooper spent three days at the Cole Hotel here with his daughter, Mrs. E. C. Bogle of Louisville and her daughter and granddaughter. While here Mr. Cooper walked about all over town. And the three houses mentioned above were about all that "seemed natural," he said. While here he drove to White Oak and visited Bernard Howard.

OLD MEN IN SPRING

Old men whose days are numbered on the earth. Are quiet, slow, reminding one of God.

For they have learned of patience and its worth. And do not hurry time, nor rush the end.

Unduly-knowing spring will surely come. They wait for certain rains to coax the thin Grass blades through sullen turf.

Can spot the moon and mark the rain within! Young men are not attuned to God's slow time. Precipitate, they charge upon upon their way.

Their blood is fire for they are in their prime. When spring is near, they push each urgent day. Old men have learned a wisdom that is rare.

Who walks in step with God has time to spare. Katherine McClure Amx In Christian Home Messenger

1957 TOTAL FARM OUTPUT IS LIKELY TO START DOWN

Total farm output in 1957 is likely to be down for the first time in 7 years. United States demand for farm products should continue strong since consumer income is expected to stay higher than a year earlier. Export demand also is strong with farm products moving to foreign markets at a record rate. The expected reduction in farm output in 1957 will result from cutbacks in crop plantings. More than 21 million acres have been signed up under the acreage reserve provisions of the Soil Bank. Total planted acreage may be down 3 to 4 percent from 1956 to the smallest level since World War I. Crops likely to be cut heaviest are wheat, corn, cotton, rice and tobacco. This is due to the amount of their acreages in the Soil Bank. Carryover of these crops will still be large although exports are reducing stocks of cotton, wheat and rice. Consequently total supplies will be heavy despite acreage reductions.

Combined output of livestock products in 1957 will be near last year's peak. There will be fewer hogs and eggs but more dairy products, broilers and turkeys. Cattle slaughter will continue large. Demand for this year's slightly reduced supply should be strong or stronger than in 1956.

High costs will continue to pinch farmers in 1957. The broad advance in prices of most things farmers buy is continuing. Also higher are interest rates, farm wage rates, and depreciation charges on farmer's capital equipment.

CARD OF THANKS

We are deeply grateful to our many friends who were so kind and thoughtful during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother, Nancy P. Turner.

Our sincere thanks to those who sent flowers, cards, words of cheer and came to visit with her during her stay in the hospital at Lexington.

We especially thank the minister for his consoling words, the quartet for their lovely hymns, the organist for the beautiful music, the pallbearers, those who sent floral offerings, those who prepared meals and brought in food and the hundreds who called to comfort us.

We will always be grateful and may God bless all of you.

KNOW AND OBEY LAW

While most motorists know it is dangerous and unlawful to pass on a hill or curve, did you know that passing within 100 feet of a bridge is also prohibited by law? In fact, the law further prohibits passing within 100 feet of a viaduct or tunnel, or within 100 feet of any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

The Kentucky Department of Public Safety urges you to be a responsible driver by knowing and obeying traffic laws.

Ferguson-Johnson Vows Solemnized

In a wedding ceremony solemnized Saturday, June 15, Miss Sylvia Ferguson, daughter of Mrs. Oleta Proffitt and Walter Ferguson of Middletown, was married to Robert Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Johnson of Malone.

The marriage rites took place at twelve o'clock noon at the Glenn Avenue Church of God, with the Rev. J. K. Barrineau officiating.

The church was decorated with baskets of red roses and wild honeysuckle. The bride wore a white gown of white satin and lace. The groom wore a dark suit.

Miss Shirley Fay Adams, close friend of the bride, played piano selections including "Always" and the Wedding March.

For her wedding the bride wore a floor length gown of white satin and lace. The lace bodice was designed with a round neckline and outlined in seed pearls and hand long sleeves ending in points. The full skirt was of net over satin, inserted with panels of lace in front and back. Her headpiece was of tight-fitting lace decorated with seed pearls, to which was attached a fingertip veil of illusion. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses from which fell long satin streamers.

Miss Marta Potter Weds In Baptist Church Saturday

In a candlelight setting in West Liberty Baptist church Saturday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock, Miss Marta Lorraine Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Potter of West Liberty, was married to Larry David McKenzie, son of Mrs. Rosa McKenzie of West Liberty and the late Bruce McKenzie.

The Rev. Bruce Hullette, pastor, read the wedding vows.

The sanctuary was decorated with white gladioli, huckleberry and dwarf palms. Tall white candles in white wrought iron candelabra illuminated the wedding scene. The couple exchanged their vows before a white iron arch which was decorated with white gladioli and huckleberry foliage. White satin covered the kneeling bench and marked the family pews.

A program of nuptial selections was presented by Mrs. W. D. Emrick, pianist, and Miss Karen Hargreaves, soloist. Mrs. Emrick played the Bridal Chorus from Wagner's Lohengrin and Mendelssohn's Wedding March from A Midsummer Night's Dream. She accompanied Miss Hargreaves who sang Because, O Promise Me and The Lord's Prayer. Mrs. Emrick wore a dress of white embroidered batiste fashioned with bands of hand embroidery and tucks. She wore a flower headpiece of pink rosebuds. Miss Hargreaves wore red swiss with white dots, styled with a full skirt and white lace ruffles across the bodice. She wore a waist corsage of white carnations.

The bride was attractive in a gown of Chantilly lace and petal white tulle over taffeta. The molded lace bodice was styled with a scalloped neckline and brief cap sleeves. Lace appliques enhanced the beauty of the full length skirt which was bordered with a crystal pleated flounce. Her tiered illusion veil was held by a shell cap of white Chantilly lace. She carried a white satin-covered Bible which had been given her by her mother some time ago.

The Bible was topped with a white orchid and satin streamers, with tiny nosegays of stephanotis tied in the bows of the ribbon.

Mrs. Arthur Dean Bach, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of red tulle and net over red tulle. The skirt was made of rows of tulle ruffles. She carried a bouquet of white carnations with nosegays of stephanotis tied in the satin ribbon and wore a headpiece of white carnations.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Farrell White of West Liberty, niece of the bridegroom, and Miss Patricia Potter of War, Va., cousin of the bride. The bridesmaids wore identically styled gowns of white swiss with red dots, made with ruffled skirts and fitted bodices. The gowns had V-necklines front and back with large bows in the back. They carried bouquets of red carnations tied with red satin streamers and wore red carnation headpieces.

Miss Devra Shawna Bach of West Liberty, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore white nylon with an overskirt of white scalloped lace and lace scalloped yoke. Her flower basket held red carnations and candy were served trimmed with bows of red and white net. Around her pony-tail hair style she wore red carnations from which fell red satin ribbon tied at the ends in loose bows.

The ushers were Humphrey Elliott and Billy Grooms of Liberty, who are classmates of the bride and groom in college.

Immediately following the ceremony approximately a hundred guests were received on the patio at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was covered with a white lace cloth and held a four tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. White tapers in crystal holders were placed on either side of the cake. A crystal punch bowl held lime green punch in which floated red roses frozen in ice. Arrangements of red and white carnations were used on the table.

Assisting at the punch bowl were Misses Mary Katherine Blevins and Sally Ann Emrick. Miss Blevins and Miss Emrick both wore dresses of light blue summer cotton and corsages of white rosebuds.

Mrs. Boyd Blair and Mrs. Carl Sinclair served the cake. Mrs. Blair wore brown and white dotted batiste and a corsage of pink carnations, and Mrs. Sinclair wore blue and white printed silk and a corsage of white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Potter wore white lace over taffeta with matching lace duster. Her flowers were red carnations.

Mrs. Rosa McKenzie, mother of the bridegroom, wore navy blue silk with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Both the bride and groom were graduated from Morgan County high school with the class of 1935 and entered college together at Eastern State College, Richmond.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to Myrtle Beach, the new Mrs. McKenzie wore an orchid color sheath and matching orchid duster and the white orchid from her wedding Bible.

After next week Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie will be at home at their apartment in Dayton, Ohio, where he is employed with the B. & O. Railway Company for the summer. They will both will re-enter Eastern State College where they will be juniors.

Among the out-of-town guests here for the wedding were: Barbara Coomer, Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Holbrook, White Oak; Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Vance, Paintsville; Miss Jean Cline, White Oak; Douglas, Hancey, Cincinnati; Jerry Wells, Georgetown; Mr. and Mrs. French Cline, White Oak; Tommy Yates, Grundy, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Minnix, Linda and Gary Minnix, Dayton, Ohio; Floris Cox, Middletown, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Yates, Jimmy Yates, Grundy, Va.; Mrs. Belle Baker Lakeworth, Florida; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis McKenzie, Dayton, Ohio; Miss Shelby Whitaker, Richmond; Humphrey Elliott, Liberty; Kathleen Mullins, Crab Orchard; Billy Grooms, Liberty; Callie Yates, Stacy, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newsome, Huntington, W. Also named were: Shirley Potter, Hamilton, Raceland; Steve Hamilton, Charleston, Ind.; Ron Hamilton, South Portsmouth; Joyce Marie Johnson, Ewing; Howard Jordan, Louisville; Gus Sallsbury, Langley; Gus Stergoes, Maysville; Arthur Willet, Bellevue; and Bill Willoughby, Mrs. Sterling.

Thousands of Trees Set Out In Eastern Kentucky Counties

The District Forester of the Northeastern District of the Kentucky Division of Forestry has released the following figures of tree seedlings planted by the residents of the Northeastern District. The planting of tree seedlings is a very important part in the rehabilitation and bringing back into production steep hillside fields, severely cut over-woodlands and in restocking the severely stocked timber lands.

Tree seedling planting also plays an important part in the stoppage of erosion on steep under-protected hillsides. Tree seedlings planted in the Northeastern district by counties are as follows:

Rowan County, 83,400
Lewis County, 74,800
Morgan County, 72,300
Elliott County, 65,500
Menifee County, 54,000
Carter County, 45,300
Fleming County, 27,500
Greenup County, 24,900

In an area such as this, which has approximately 75 percent of its total area in forest, from it a goodly portion of the income of many communities is derived, the growing of timber is a very important project. Everyone of voting age has seen the value of standing timber increase from $12 per thousand to approximately $20 per thousand board feet. There is nothing to indicate that the next twenty years will not see the value of standing timber worth $40 to $50 per board foot. It takes approximately fifty years to grow a tree seedling to a mature tree with the proper forest management.

The Kentucky Division of Forestry will have again for sale next winter and spring, tree seedlings of timber species for the planting and reforestation of idle lands. Now is the time to make plans for your purchase of tree seedlings next year. See a representative of the Division of Forestry, the Soil Conservation Service or the Extension Service.

On a high hill directly opposite the south side of the courthouse in Havesville Hancock county, is Lover's Leap. Local legends tell of several Indian maidens who died in this traditional fashion. One of the heroines was called Negahankce. When her brave was killed, grief-stricken, she plunged over the rocky edge.

Modern Methods Rebuild Old Road on Elkfork

(By Bernard E. Whit)

One of the biggest WPA road projects in Morgan county during WPA days was the construction of a road up Williams Creek of Elk Fork to Coffee Creek, a distance of about five or six miles. The late Andy Blevins was in charge of the project and the work was done by the labor of men. The machinery was shovels, mattocks, wheelbarrows and sledgeshammers.

The men would break the stone with hammers, called napping stone, and in wheelbarrows scatter it on the road. In this way a rock surfaced road was built. It took several months and many days of hard labor by the men.

Last Thursday the Kentucky Road Oiling Company—which is one of the biggest road construction companies in this section, started to surface the same section of road. During the days since it was first built the traffic has worn it out and it was practically a dirt road. The construction company with modern machinery and trucks has almost completed the road in a period of three days.

Tommy Ruth said that about sixty trucks hauled gravel from a crusher on North Fork. Each truck hauls about 8 tons at a load. The road will have a base of oil and almost three inches of surface, being limestone and is known by the highway department as C1 mix, having a black top surface.

This makes a very good road for the amount of traffic likely to use it. Several thousands tons of limestone will be used and considerable machinery involved.

This is almost beyond imagination to know that a few men and machines can build in four or five days far more and better roads than the men could have done in several months.

Until I visited the road Friday and saw how fast and how much was being done, I could not realize that it could be done so well and so quickly.

This is a fine section and fine people live along the way. At the mouth of Williams Creek and at the intersection of the road up Elkfork to Coffee Creek is a beautiful wide valley. Settled in the beginning by Peter Day, who came from Tazewell County, Virginia, the farm later was owned by Alf McClain. It is now owned by a number of people: Mrs. Lorene Hamilton, Ardene Hamilton, Chas. Hutchinson, Doan Caskey and Gus McClain, perhaps others.

Henry Day, whose father was Boone Day and whose grandfather was Alfred Day and whose great grandfather was Peter Day, has a general merchandise store at the crossroads with his daughter, Mrs. Lorene Hamilton.

Mr. Day has been a merchant many years and was for years a member of ASC committee and is now member of the SCS county committee and a farmer. He has the two daughters mentioned and two sons, Clarence and Harry Day. While visiting with him in his store several customers came in, Mrs. Ruby Caskey, Mrs. Reva Caskey, Orel Hutchinson.

Mr. Day said that first came good roads and then good farms to build up the country. He added that everything is as different as day and night to what it was forty years ago.

The Elamton postoffice is about a mile and a half up the creek from the store. Mrs. Myrtle Williams has been postmaster since 1954 and has a nice office building. Her husband, Anderson Williams, a veteran of World War One. They have two sons, both in the air force stationed at Langley Field, Va. One of the sons, Dwain Williams, married an English girl while in London. She is the former Miss Eileen Vass of Greenway Road, London, England. They have a son, Mrs. Williams and her son are now visiting her parents in England.

Mrs. Myrtle Williams has a sister, Mrs. Clarence Smith who is postmaster at Jephtha, and another sister, Mrs. Alderson Williams who is postmaster at Dingus.

Driving up the road from the mouth of the creek one will pass the homes of B. Felfler, Hager Hamilton, Anderson Williams, John Cantrill, Dennie Mullens, James Wright, Orban Jack, Buck Williams, Ova-Maxey, Fred Williams, Woodrow Williams, Ford Williams, Randall Williams, Ivan Beculhimer, Wendell Bradley. The Henry Williams farm is now owned by Thurman Wright, deputy sheriff.

Good Roads Make For Good Mail Service

Mrs. Myrtle Williams, postmaster at Elamton, said that mail comes to Lenox and that a carrier picks it up there and brings it up Williams Creek to the post office each day. She said they received the Licking Valley Courier in about an hour or two after it was in the office Friday. There is also a mail route from Lenox up Cow Branch and across to Cottle post office on Licking River. Another mail route goes up Elkfork to Crockett, Relief and to Paintsville stopping at offices on the way.

School Bus For Pupils

The good road will help immensely with transportation of children to school. A school bus carries children from the mouth of Lost Creek up Sand Lick and down Williams Creek, then taking the children up Fanlu Fork of Elkfork to Crockett school and also bringing the high school pupils to West Liberty.

Helps Farmers

The good road means much to farmers in the way of bringing in fertilizer and taking their produce to market. The last few years have witnessed much change in farming. The level land has been fertilized and is producing much more crops while the hill land is either in grass or is being left to grow up in forest. Now where in 1900 one could see for five miles did I see a hillside in cultivation.

Social and Religious Life

Many new churches have been built recently along the highway from Lenox to the head of the streams and the people can easily get to their church or Sunday school. Another factor of good roads means better law and order. The sheriff and his officers and the state patrol can easily reach almost any place in a matter of an hour or less time and in case of violations or disturbances the law can be on the spot in a few minutes.

In conclusion as Mr. Day said, good roads are the first thing needed to build a good and happy and prosperous community and the law can be on the spot in a few minutes.

BROMEGRASS AND LADINO BEST IN U. K. GRAZING TEST

A smooth bromegrass ladino clover mixture performed best of three trial mixtures in a grazing experiment conducted by the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station animal husbandry and agronomy departments last year.

The bromegrass produced carcasses of the highest price a pound, the most dollars of beef in an acre, and the highest average carcass grade.

Mixtures used were Kentucky bluegrass-white clover, Kentucky bluegrass-birdsfoot trefoil, and the bromegrass ladino mixture. Eighty yearling Hereford steers, grading good to choice at the start, were used. Idea of the test was to check carrying capacity of the mixtures as shown by steer days, average daily gains, and beef gain in an acre.

This table shows that the bromegrass ladino mixture produced higher carcass grades; its steers sold for $3.70 more a hundred-weight, and it gave during this one-year test $3.22 more money returns an acre.

One dozen lemons will make about 16 glasses of lemonade.

HISTORY OF WHITE OAK BRANCH SCHOOL

(Compiled by Harold Rowland and Linda Smith)

The present building was built in 1924. In the beginning it had one room and in 1927 two rooms were constructed. In all, there have been three buildings. The third room was torn down in 1947.

The early building had long benches for seats. Chestnut logs split open served for the purpose. A recitation bench was used. In the early days there was only a four or five months school—and you went only as far as the fifth grade. Then you could take an examination and be a grade teacher. One teacher had as many as 75 or 80 students. A wood fire and coal stove heated the building in cold weather. They used percentage grades, and what they got on paper went on the grade card.

The girls wore lincey. The boys' mothers made their trousers as well as the children's shoes.

The original building was log and was across the old road from the present site. Later it was moved to the present site and a frame building put up. Dump Bradley gave the land.

In 1925 there were two years of high school offered. At one time the building was used to house patients having their tonsils removed. Dr. Colby from Louisville came to this school and used the building for a clinic for removing tonsils.

There were twenty cots donated by local people. One boy with a sore throat, in spite of protests, crawled in bed with hat, coat, shoes and all. There was one father who ran his boy all the way to the forks of the creek to have his tonsils removed. Dr. Colby took out 18 sets of tonsils in 1927. Hannah Maxey was one of the teachers. School was dismissed for a few days while the clinic was in operation.

In 1927-8, 1934-5, 1955-6 Lloyd Hill was the teacher. There were four years of junior high school—7th, 8th, 9th and 10th. There were 60 or 65 children enrolled at that time.

Brenice Conley and Edgar Bradley completed the eighth grade and went on an additional five years to make a total of thirteen years, not missing a single day. Riding horseback was the most common means of getting to school.

Games Were Enjoyed

Some games played in those days were: ball, "Ring around the Rosie", "Bull pen", "Fox and dog", "John Brown is dead and the Big Day is Over", "Hide and Go-Seek", "Switch Hide", "Anti Over", "Skip Around the Ocean" and "Horse Shoe".

Some of the women in the community did the cooking for the lunch program. Later most of the older girls did it.

At one time, Mrs. Golden Napier lived in the building.

Achie Beculhimer tells of seeing the first auto in the neighborhood and running after it for some distance.

Some ministers who have attended this school are A. C. Bradley, who started preaching in 1922, after being baptized in 1920, Curt Beculhimer and Oran Beculhimer.

Some school teachers were Mason Cox, Virgil Smith, Ruby Elam and Winfred Carpenter.

It was given the name White Oak Branch because of a growth of white oak timber up the branch. The name of the post office came from a Dock Dingus, an early settler.

In 1921, another important structure was erected—the Union church.

A partial list of teachers include: Oscar Pelfrey, Charlie Williams, Zona Holbrook, Rollie Cox, Dolphia Gilliam, Everett Nickels, Goldie Rowland, Lloyd Hill, Clifford Blevins, Edgar Hamilton, James Day, Virgil Smith, Marjorie Cox, Reva Beculhimer, Rue Cisco, Fred Blanton, Curtis Elliott, Opal Hutchinson, Arnold Haney, Clifford Benton, Vernon Williams, Edith Allen, Monnie (Wingo) Patrick, George Lacy, Elva Bradley, Loretta May, Glena Day, Sally Smith, Elmer Craft, Otis McGuire, Glen DesJardins, Mrs. Nell Atkins, Manford Bailey, George Bailey and M. C. Bradley.

Disabled May Get Social Security Accounts Frozen

Although many disabled people in the Morgan county area have already applied to have their social security records frozen, many more may lose valuable social security protection if they do not apply before July 1957.

This warning came from Robert A. Flynn, district manager of social security in Ashland. He explained that an application filed before July 1957 by a disabled worker could be effective as of the time his disability actually started if certain work requirements were met at that time. After June 30, 1957, a disabled person cannot freeze his social security record for a period beginning earlier than 1 year before the date he applies for the freeze. This means that many workers who have been disabled for a long time will not be able to get their record frozen if they do not apply before June 30, 1957.

Any person in the area who is severely disabled and who worked regularly in work covered by social security before becoming disabled should immediately contact the social security district office located at 340 14th Street, Ashland, Ky. The office is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday thru Friday (except national holidays).

SONGWRITER VISITS AT FLORRESS

(By Betty Anne Bolin)

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Williams and children, Karen Yvonne, Yvella Lorene and Delmar Eugene, Jr. of Dayton, Ohio, are spending this week visiting relatives at Florress and other parts of the county. Delmar Eugene, Jr. is only five weeks old and this is his first visit to Morgan county. His father thinks he will make a fine addition to the Delmar Williams Singers, since the new addition to the family seems to have a strong voice.

The Delmar Williams Singers have a new recording on the market on Mercury-Statway label. One side of the record is "Lonely Tomorrow" and the other side is "I'm Not Angry Now." Both words and music to these songs were composed by Delmar Williams, native of Florress.

De-Emphasis Of Speed May Reduce Accidents

A "very substantial" reduction in traffic accidents may be advanced many years by the recent decision of the Automobile Manufacturers Association to de-emphasize speed and horsepower in advertising and otherwise promoting the sale of new cars, one of the nation's leading safety specialists declared in New York recently.

Thomas N. Boate, Accident Prevention manager of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, termed the announcement by the Automobile Manufacturers Association board of directors in Detroit "the most promising action that has occurred in the field of traffic safety in the last decade."

"If the state legislatures," Mr. Boate said, "will make available the necessary funds to put enough policemen on the roads and highways and permit high schools to provide safe driver courses for students it is not much to hope that the present toll of deaths, injuries and property destruction can be reduced as much as 50 percent within two years."

"Traffic safety specialists have always known that the three indispensable requirements for traffic safety are education, engineering and enforcement. There never has been any doubt that the automobile industry has been spending unlimited sums of money to build safety into their cars, and the states have been making great progress in building safety into roads and highways. Unfortunately, however, unless we "build safety" into the drivers, too the first two accomplishments are of little avail."

The Automobile Manufacturers Association has given tremendous impetus to the forging of that missing link by announcing that it will emphasize safety and service as the most important values to look for in the cars of the future. There is little doubt that this will go far toward convincing the great majority of the drivers of today that speeding and recklessness behind the wheel are wasteful of both time and money, not to mention lives and broken bodies.

"There will always remain however, a minority that will respond to nothing but the strong arm of the present arm of the law. They will be capable of killing and injuring a lot of people and destroying billions of dollars worth of property."

To properly patrol our highways would require the addition of only 28,000 men to police and highway patrol forces throughout the nation at a cost of some $224,500,000 annually. Obviously this is a small sum when compared with the $6,642,435,000 known economic loss of accidents. It is evident, then, that providing adequate police protection on our highways would actually cost-benefit of dollars less than the present cost of accidents.

"Let us halt, therefore, the two important steps that have been taken in motion toward the easily attainable goal of safe roads and highways. But, at the same time, let none of us forget that until those other two steps—adequate enforcement authorities and high school level training of future drivers—are taken, the traffic lanes of America will continue to be strewn with the dead and the maimed and appalling amounts of economic waste."

Mayo School Offering Practical Nurse Course

A new term for the Practical Nursing Course will begin Sept. 3, at Mayo State Vocational School Paintsville.

The twelve month course consists of 4½ months of class room instruction at Mayo State, with the remainder of the year to be spent in participating hospitals where students receive clinical training.

By the beginning of this coming school year the Practical Nursing Department will have been moved to new quarters and this expansion of floor space, plus new equipment to be installed, will make possible the acceptance of several more students who are interested in nursing training.

Tuition for the course is $44 for the full year work, with students providing for their room and board while at the Mayo State Vocational School. Room and board is furnished by the hospital during the clinical period, and the hospital pays the student $20 per month for two months, and $30 per month for five months during this period of their training.

Students completing this course will be permitted to take the State Board Examination to become a licensed Practical Nurse. Since the program has been in operation at Mayo, 29 students trained here have received their licenses in Practical Nursing. All those from Mayo that have taken the State Board Examination have scored higher than the average for the nation.

The Nursing Department at Mayo is one of three in the state that is fully approved for training practical nurses and is the first of its kind in the state.

At the present time there are thirty in training in this program with two instructors. Some of these students are in the hospital clinical period of their training and will graduate by September. The other students are in their classroom period of training at Mayo and will receive their caps July 30, during regular graduation exercises held each year at the school.

WOODSBEND

GUNNELL FAMILY HAS REUNION

WOODSBEND, Ky., July 1.—(By Eve May)—The Gunnell family reunion was Sunday at the home of Aubrey Rowland, was also the celebration of the birthdays of Mrs. Rowland, James Gunnell, and Mason Gunnell. Mr. Gunnell was 82 years young and all his children were present.

Among the 50 people attending were: Grover Carpenter, Holly Gunnell, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. DeHaven, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell, Mr. and Mrs. Max, Mr. and Mrs. Loran Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Roll Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rowland, Mr. and Mrs. Con Rowland, Ezel, Mr. and Mrs. Edna Gunnell, Donald and Valerie and Roll Carpenter. Plate lunches were sent to Mrs. Haley Carpenter and J. B. Carpenter, who were too ill to attend.

DesJardins Hospitalized
Rev. Glen DesJardins is hospitalized at Good Samaritan Hospital, Lexington.

Guest Preacher
David Prater, a graduate of Mt. Carmel Bible School, and cousin of Glen Lacey, was guest speaker at Woodsbend Mission Sunday. Mrs. Olive Graves is caring for the DesJardins family during the absence of their parents.

Jesse Fugate of Denniston is spending a week with his daughter, Mrs. J. B. May.

Mr. and Mrs. Finley Gose, Janis and Una attended the Grand Ole Opry at Nashville, Tennessee Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Vest and Robert Edwin of Lexington were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gibson.

Mrs. Wilmer Cecil and Mrs. Elmer Anderson are spending a few days at Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, O., with their brother who shows slight improvement after 21 days.

Shakertown in Mercer county was settled in 1805 by Shakers, or Shaking Quakers, a religious cult that came into existence in England after 1747, when Jane and James Wardley began exhorting their neighbors to a more austere manner of life.

Clinton, Hickman county, was platted in 1826 by James Gibson and incorporated in 1831 after the seat of county government was moved there from Columbus.

Social Security Recipient May Earn $1200 Year

Prior to the year 1955, any wage earner receiving social security benefits was required to limit his earnings on a monthly basis. Each recipient was allowed to earn no more than $75 a month. The 1954 amendments put the earnings limitation on a yearly basis beginning with 1955.

Hence, any recipient of social security benefits, employed or self-employed, is now allowed to earn $1200 each year.

He may earn the $1200 in a few months or he can spread the earnings over the entire 12 months. It is immaterial how much each person earns in any one month—just as long as the earnings will be more than $4200.

Do not wait to notify the office until more than $1200 is earned. As an example: Ellen, a retired secretary, filed a claim for social security benefits in January, 1956. She indicated that she would work for no more than $1200 in that year. However, in 1956 she had an opportunity to earn more in a job than she could in the district office that she would earn over $1200. Her March 1956 check was the last one issued. Her earnings at the end of the year were $1690. This month she was eligible for six checks in that year. Since she had received only three checks, a lump-sum covering three months benefits was promptly forwarded to her by the Social Security Administration.

If she had not reported when she did, it is possible that she would have suffered a loss of several months' income.

No matter how much Ellen earns in a year, however, she will get a benefit check for any month in which she neither earns wages of more than $80 nor renders substantial services in self-employment.

Further information regarding social security benefits may be obtained from the Social Security Administration, District Office located at 344 14th Street, Ashland, Kentucky. The office is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday thru Friday (except national holidays).

A Field Representative of the Ashland District Office located at 344 14th Street, Ashland, Kentucky, will answer any questions you may have concerning social security benefits. There is no charge for this service.

Mrs. Proctor Owens Passes In Magoffin

Mr. and Mrs. Cummings Fugate and children, Mrs. Bertie Ruth Murphy, Scotty and Jerry Lynn, and Mrs. Bertie Fugate of Grassy Creek attended the funeral of Mrs. Cummings Fugate's mother, Mrs. Sarah Jane Owens at Lickburg, June 23.
